

To whom it may concern:

I have had the pleasure of working with John McClain and the Dog and Pony Show for the last several years. In the world of production where clients are constantly looking to surpass the highest expectation, The Dog and Pony Show is easily the best of the best. The laid back style of the facility in tandem with the latest in audio technology make working with John and his studio a “no brainer”.

John and his team have provided a variety of audio related services for us on a wide variety of projects. Videos, commercials, and television production for companies such as Ernest and Julio Gallo, Skechers USA, Symantec, Harrah’s Entertainment, P!NK’S “Released” for MTV, Aspect Communications, and Ameriquest are only a few of our joint successes.

John’s incredible creativity, matched with his high level of technical ability, resources and professionalism equal a great experience from start to finish.

Sincerely,
